Manchester's appeal was on three grounds. The principal one, it was said, was based on the admissability of certain testimony. R. C. Crumpton testified for the state that Manchester had approached him before the murder with a proposition to "stick up" a filling station. R. Douglas Feagin and James W. Schell, defense counsel, contended that evidence should not have been admitted as it placed Manchester's character in evidence.

Other points in the motion concerned the discovery of new evidence—evidence which, defense counsel said, would impeach some of the state's witnesses—and alleged inflammatory arguments of Solicitor Charles H. Garrett.

In fact, the judges passed up such notable characters as Christ, Napoleon, Hoover and 600 others, in selecting the quaint story of Maria Brown's life.

The book, called "Grandmother Brown's Hundred Years, 1827-1927," has just been published by Little, Brown & Company, of Boston. The publishing house today furnished the United News with a list of the subjects who competed with Grandmother Brown for biographical distinction.

Five separate manuscripts having to do with the lives of King David. Christ, Paul of Tarsus and Thomas Jefferson were submitted. The lives of Franklin, Napoleon, Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt each were written twice in the contest.

One biography, containing 75,000 words, chronicled the life of a one-month-old baby, Another concerned, the earthly existence of "a yaller dog." Still another purported to be the true life of a woman's pet cat.

Council Monday afternoon voted to award J. N. Hirsch $1,500 damages in erection of the Pryor street and central avenue viaducts.

The amount was agreed to as a compromise and was sanctioned by the aldermanic board. It is now in the hands of the mayor for his sanction. Harry Jackson, 14, of 371 Washington street, received cuts and bruises about his legs and a broken finger, early Monday night when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a truck driven by W. D. Tuck, of 1087 Woodland street according to reports of land street, according to reports of Patrolmen M. T. Maddox and J. W. Anderson. The accident occurred on Woodward avenue near Formwalt

Tuck told police that he saw the youth approaching and changed his direction in an attempt to avoid hitting him, but the youth, apparently excited, ran his bicycle into the path

They Furnish the Very Highest Quality---the Tenderest---the Sweetest---Meats Obtainable---and always at BIG SAVINGS in Prices to Their Patrons

OGERS' operate 190 attractive, clean, modern markets in their 400 pure food stores, making purchases convenient and shopping a pleasure.

Rogers' have special arrangements with some of the largest packers in the United States whereby all animals slaughtered for their markets are especially selected—selected because of uniform size, because they are young and have been fattened on the kind of food to make the meat tender and give it a most delicious flavor.

Rogers' has its own large refrigerator storeroom in Atlanta, where its fresh meats are carefully and scientifically kept at the right temperature.

Rogers' 190 markets employ more than 200 managers and sales clerks, all of them carefully trained in the art of handling and cutting meats.

WHAT ROGERS' MARKETS MEAN TO THE SOUTH.

In addition, a number of experienced supervisors (shown on this page) are in constant touch with Rogers' 190 markets and see to it that every detail regarding cleanliness and in the rendering of service, as well as the delivery of the choicest meats, is carefully observed. These superintendents receive, at all times, the heartiest co-operation of the men behind the counter in maintaining the high standards set for the conduct of our business.

As an indication of what Rogers' group of markets mean financially to the South, it might interest you to know that the pay rolls in our Fresh Meat Department alone mounts up to nearly half a million dollars annually. This is in addition to the million and a quarter dollars paid out to the 1,200 or more employees directly connected with the grocery and other departments.

Rogers' purchases of fresh meats and fish for our 190 markets will exceed two million dollars annually. More than one-fourth of this amount — or around one-half a million dollars—is paid out annually to Georgia and other southern packers and concerns for meats and other items sold through our markets.

Rogers' markets buy through the fish markets of eastern and southern corporations, but largely through Virginia markets, practically a quarter-million dollars of fish and oysters annually.

LARGEST RETAIL FISH DEALERS IN THE UNITED STATES.

It will probably surprise the people of the Southeast to know that ROGERS, INC., ARE THE LARGEST RETAIL FISH DEALERS IN THE UNITED STATES. We were surprised to know this, ourselves, but the information was recently given us by one of the largest wholesale fish houses in this country. But when it is considered that, in addition to our 190 markets, fresh fish is also sold in more than 100 of Rogers Stores, this statement can be the more readily understood and appreciated. Our fresh fish purchases for the past six months were well over one million, three hundred thousand pounds.

With these facts before the people of the several Southern states served by Rogers, Inc., it certainly can not be a surprise to them to know that Rogers, Inc., is doing the largest grocery, fish and fresh meat business of any Southern chain.

And it will further convince them that Rogers' is ready, willing and able to continue to give them the best possible service, the lowest possible prices, and the highest quality of merchandise found anywhere.

Georgia Physician Is Sentenced to Three Years in Atlanta Pen.

Savannah, Ga., November 4.—(P)—
Dr. C. P. McCall, physician of Reidsville, Ga., today was sentenced to three years in the federal penitentiary at Atlanta on charges of violating the Harrison anti-narcotic act.

Federal Judge William H. Barrett denied a plea that the court either suspend sentence or give Dr. McCall a period of respite in which to adjust his professional business. He has already served a year and a day in the penitentiary on another charge of violating the same act.

William Black entered a plea of Metars imposed on A. J. ### Site for New Postoffice Is Reported Selected

The above aerial view shows the location of the Central of Georgia freight warehouse in relation to the Terminal station, the new Union depot, which is now under construction, and the present postoffice building. According to Washington dispatches, this site has been practically decided upon for Atlanta's new $2,100,000 federal building, although no formal announcement has been made. Under the terms of the offer which was made to the government by the railroad in April of this year, the new structure would be built over the warehouse building and the railroad tracks on a plot 300 by 350 feet. This would allow the Central of Georgia to continue its operation in this location and would mean that mail could be dropped to the tracks below for loading on made-up trains.

News.)-The new cabinet of Premier ment would have 320 votes, a clear majority, to meet assaults similar to that which overthrew the ministry of Aristide Briand 13 days ago.

The cabinet will deliver to the hamber tomorrow afternoon a declaration of its policy. This is expected to include support of the Briand foreign policies with respect to evacuation of the Rhineland, ratification of the Young plan and participa-tion in the forthcoming five-power naval conference. Furthermore, Tardieu was understood to have convinced Finance Min-jster Henri Cheron that a large tax cut was impossible. Such a promise, made public, would increase the popu-larity of the new ministry, already enhanced by favorable comment in the press and an excellent reaction on the Charges Higgins Regime With Persecution of Booth Family.

By Keith Jones,
United News Staff Correspondent.
London, November 4.—Mrs. Bramwell Booth, widow of the ousted commander-in-chief of the Salvation Army, has widened the breach reported to exist between the new Army regime, head by General Edward J. Higgins, and the Booth family.
Simultaneously with publication of a letter in the Sunday Referce, it was learned that at personal expenses she had distributed a pamphlet to 1,000 Army field officers detailing the Booth family troubles before her husband's death.

The pamphlet declared that Evangeline Booth, commander of American Army forces, and sister of Bramwell, had constantly resented the latter's authority and had declined to repudiate alleged "false and misleading statements" printed about Bramwell Booth in the United States.

Mrs. Booth expressed regret that a deputation of the Army high council had been allowed to see Bramwell just before voting to oust him last January.

"Doctors opposed the visit and only the fear that a refusal would be misinterpreted led to granting of the deputation's request," she wrote.

In her letter to The Referee, Mrs. Booth saiô she was sorry that statements had been made regarding Higgins' treatment of the Booth family,

Booth said she was sorry that statements had been made regarding Higgins' treatment of the Booth family, especially "the unjustifiable use of the world vendetta."

"If a small section of officers could act in the manner they did toward my husband when he lay dying, one cannot wonder that some of them should be anxious to justify their action in prosecuting his children," she said.

There was the smallest possibility of the children "continuing in the service of Christ in the Salvation Army," she added. "It is difficult to believe that after 50 years of service conditions will be made. No queror, liquid-cooled engine, the nev Curtiss plane can carry 2,000 pounds o' mail at a speed in excess of 130 ships-the Keystone Patrician, the Fokker F-32, the Curtiss Condor and the Boeing Transport-with capacities ranging from 20 to 32 person either are on the airways now or are undergoing tests. The motive power ranges from two huge 600-horsepower engines to three and four-motored, aircooled power plants.

Mrs. Lucille B. Fisher, a licensed pilot of Los Angeles, Cal., is the most recent addition to the ranks of the famous Caterpillar Club, composed of is fliers who have saved their lives by emergency jumps with air chutes. She is the third woman member of the organization, which has no officers and holds no meetings. Mrs. Fisher leaped from a plane in a blinding storm near Columbus, Ohio, recently while she was on an aerial tour of the east with her husband, Wayne H. Fisher, also a licensed pilot. Mrs. Fisher's jump was unusual because she left the plane when it was barely 200 feet from the ground. Her husband saw a rift in the clouds immediately after his wife had jumped to safety and brought his plane down in a field without mishap.

The recent air mail shipment of bank certificates having face value of $75,000.000 from San Francisco to Chicago, New York and eastern points, is not only another evidence of the larger use of air mail and express by banks and financial institutions, but also evidence of increasing dependability and safety of air mail. The daily total of banking papers and securities handled by the established air mail lines averages about $24. air mail lines averages about $24, of mail ines averages about $2.1000,000 each day, it was revealed in statistics recently made public. This large volume is hurried to its destination by air mail to save one to three days' interest.

SOCIAL WORKERS' service conditions will be made. No regular schedule is to be kept on the flight, arrival and departure to depend upon weather conditions. Each plane carried a pilot, a co-pilot and two mechanics. GROUP CHOOSES NEW OFFICERS

Referring to the transfer to South America of Mrs. Lucy Booth-Hellberg, youngest daughter of William Booth, founder of the Army, she said:

"I am deeply grieved that I failed to induce General Higgins to mitigate his treatment of her. Breaking up her home, separating her from her only child and going forth at the age of 61 to a strange land where she does not speak the language, she becomes the most pathetic figure in care. Sunday Gas Sale Fine To $100

The case of J. S. Brown, Jonesboro gasoline merchant fined $500 for an alleged violation of the Sunday sales act, goes before Governor I. G. Hardman this morning with the board's recommendation to cut the fine to $100.

According to witnesses who appeared before the prison board the conviction and fine was the direct outgrowth of the jealousy of those living of the concrete highways of the gasoline sales opportunities of those who lived on the paved roads.

Eighteen indictments were returned, it was said, against persons living on concrete highways. ### SEARCHERS FIND BODY OF GUN-FIGHT VICTIM

Deputy Sheriff Shot Mountain Battle Is Near Death.

Whitesburg, Ky., November 4.—(P)
The body of a man who climaxed a record of prohibition offenses by fighting a gun battle with a liquor raiding squad, seriously wounding one officer was recovered today. Twelve bullets from the revolvers of the raiders perforated the body.

The shooting occurred yesterday in a remote section of this mountain county. The victim, Ashland Collins, 30, and Tom Morton, were riding double on a mule when they met the raiders, who had arrested two men and three women.

Law Held Invalid.

After Brown had stepped out of line, it was said, the court of appeals held that selling gasoline on Sundays was an act of necessity and not against the law.

Today, in Clayton country, Mr. Reynolds told the commission, the same merchants who were indicted with Brown are each Sunday selling the same articles for which Brown was fined.

"Don't make an example of one man for what is being done all over the state of Georgia," he urged. "In fairness, justice and equity this man should be pardoned."

Major C. C. Smith, solicitor-general of the Stone Mountain judicial circuit, appeared for Judge Hutcheson against Brown's petition. He denied that the indictment was founded on an invite when they met the raiders, who had arrested two men rich three women.

The officers said they took a bottle of whisky from Collins, who dismounted and opened fire, shooting down Deputy Sheriff Steven J. Cornett. The fire was returned by the officers, including Cornet, who shot from where he lay. Collins was said to have continued firing until killed. With Cornett were W. A. Doctors know why. So do nurses. They call such cases septics.

To remedy obnoxious body odors and bad breath, you must recognize their cause. The trouble is deep-seated. Frankly in the colon. Semi-constipation makes millions of systems septic. There may be a daily movement, but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains poisons the blood, and permeates the perspiration. It taints the breath. Nature is signaling her need of a tiny Calcium Wajer. Calcium wafers work wonders in one's appearance, too. With the inner system sweet and clean, the complexion clears most marvelously. Eyes brighten. Teeth whiten. The tongue is no longer coated, even on arising. And you never need take another harsh cathartic.

Perhaps you are a septic, and don't know it. Try a tiny wafer of calcium, and see! It may make all the difference in the world. Leave harsh, habit-forming cathartics alone. You never need them if you take an occasional calcium wafer.

Social Event.

For society, the opera opening was an event of major importance, in which for weeks there had run a crescendo of anticipation and interest. The list of boxholders for tonight read like the social register and included the Samuel Insulls, Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick, the Arthur Meekers, Mrs. Edward Hines, the John F. Jelkes, iunior and senior, Mrs. Jacob Baur, the Martin A. Ryersons and the Cyrus Hall McCormicks. Not only was Chicago society represented, however, for from many points in the east and midcago society represented, nowever, for from many points in the east and middle west came representatives of the social order.

For society likewise there was a new setting in the old rose and gold interior of the opera auditorium. Gone was the golden horseshoe of the old Auditorium theater, which was signed the old Auditorium theater, which was signed the property for the control of the contro old Auditorium theater, which was si-lent tonight after 40 years of opera openings. The new preserve of the elite already has been termed the golden crescent, as it reaches only across the back of the main floor and not around the sides. In fact, there are no side boxes whatever in this modern operatic interior, each of the 3500 seats of the first floor dress. 3,500 seats of the first floor, dress circle and balconies facing the full wacker drive, Chicago's spacious double-decked boulevard skirting the Chicago river and on which the huge Corinthian columns of the opera building give, bustled with activity as the world of society, business and music was discharged at the operatic scene. Incidentally the feminine contingent appeared in trailing draperies, long gloves and high waistlines, reminiscent of the night in 1890 when the old auditorium, splendid in gold and marble, began its historic career.

The story of the Civic Opera building, which Samuel Insull, president of the opera company, has called "the splendid gift of Chicagoans to Chicago and the world," is unique. One night back in 1927 Mr. Insull first told opera guarantors of a project of a new opera house to replace the auditorium.

GRIGSBY-GRUNOW CO. CUTS MAJESTIC PRICE

Substantial Reduction Comes as Result of Mass Production.

Announcement is made by Grigsby-Grunow Company, manufacturer of Majestic radio receivers and phonograph combinations, that substantial price reductions have been made on Models 91 and 92, effective at once.

price reductions have been made on Models 91 and 92, effective at once. This action is right in line with the policy on which Majestic started in last year making sets—by means of mass production of quality merchandise to effect economies which can be passed on in the price to the public. Majestic started the industrial world in June, 1928, with a receiver and a price that industrial leaders said "couldn't be done" and yet Majestic proved that it could, and public acceptance permitted Majestic production to jump to 3,500 sets daily in December, 4,000 sets daily this spring, 5,000 sets daily in September of this year and over 6,000 a day during October. Manufacturing economies possible at this last figrue permit the new prices.

In the eight Majestic plants, employing more than 15,000 people, economy of operation is a scientific study. Under expert guidance, this organization has literally been able to "improve the unimprovable." Majestic starts with raw material and makes every minute piece that goes into its receivers. No operation from splitting great steel sheets to the insertion of a tiny screw but what gets thorough study with a view to accomplishing that operation at lower cost. Majestic buys and uses wire at the rate of 60,000 miles per day and absorbs the entire production of the largest plywood factories in the world for its cabinet plant, now the largest furniture factory in the country.

"Line production," started by the test, it is close to the point at which the chassis goes together. There is no unnecessary handling or conveyanywhere. The chassis assem-proceeds in a straight line from division to division, ending with a final inspection at the top of a ver-tical conveyor which leaves them insertion in the cabinets

In the cabinet plant, there are three continuous assembly lines, into which all pieces go after shaping, turning and sanding have been completed. Down one line proceeds the lower half of Model 92, down the second proceeds the upper half, while in the third line Model 91 is built up. Ends, sides and tops are first as-sembled as individual units and placed close to huge clamps resembling presses, in which these units are locked true and square and expert expert craftsman attaches the trim, carefully fits the doors and gives it the little finishing touches that make Majestic cabinet an attractive piece the little finishing touches that make a Majestic cabinet an attractive piece of quality furniture. Then comes the stain. filler, lacquer, rubbing down and the "two tone" effect so desired. One out of every ten employes is an inspector which assures each cabinet's perfection and its being exactly like every one of the hundreds which have just preceded it.

This year the company started making its own tubes and developed a tube-making organization as sensationally as it had built up its radio set production. Within but a few weeks 20.000 Majestic tubes were being supplied with Majestic receivers. Each month has seen a steady growth in tube production until now 60.000 tubes, sufficient for all the company's sets, pour out daily. Finding girls that are both fast and appreciative of the care necessary on such delicate work has been on the big job. So small are the pieces in a score of operations that tweezers are used to handle them. Temperatures at many operations must be kept within a fraction of a degree or the piece being formed will not function correctly.

Hundreds of difficulties have been overcome through the never-ceasing drive for methods and personnel that

Hundreds of difficulties have been overcome through the never-ceasing drive for methods and personnel that can maintain accuracy to a thousandth of an ich yet keep up both speed and economical manufacture. The company is mighty proud of Majestic tubes and satisfied, by repeated tests, that its tube is fully as sensitive and as rugged as any on the market—better, in the characteristics which its engineers have found essential to satisfactory performance.

It is the sincere hope of W. C. Grunow, the dynamic head of the manufacturing end of the business, to constantly build faster machinery, find more efficient methods, so that each year will see lower prices on even better Majestic receivers. The company recently announced the purchase of 34 acres of property next to its Dickens avenue, Chicago, plants, on which it could build more factories and attain the startling figures of 11,000 to 12,000 sets a day. It wasn't so very long ago that such a production per month put a manufacturer in the very front rank, yet by June of 1930 this fast moving organization

Demands and Receives Vote of Confidence on Unemployment Plan.

London, November 4.— (United News.)—Great Britain's labor government passed its first major crisis at 11 o'clock tonight when, after protracted debate, the house of commons voted confidence in the cabinet's plans to remedy the unemployment. plans to remedy the unemployment ituation. No record vote was taken. The No record vote was taken. The house merely approved a supplementary appropriation of $50,000 for the office of J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal, but Thomas has requested the appropriation as a test of his whole unemployment policy.

Thomas revealed the present plans for speeding 42 000 000 prounds steel er last May without a majority in the house of commons. One cabinet mem-ber after another was called upon for an accounting.

Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald, fresh from his peace trip to America, was cheered loudly as he entered the chamber at 3 p. m., and drew a fresh salvo of applause when he told a questioner that the question of resuming diplomatic relations with Russia would be considered tomorrow, and the question of India's future status would be discussed Thursday. Nothing was said regarding his port to commons tomorrow on his naval discussions with President Hoover.

SUPREME COURT RULES IN FARM LOAN BOARD CASE

Washington, November 4.—(P)— The supreme court decided today the federal farm loan board and receive ers of failed joint stock land banks are without authority to levy assess ments against stockholders of such banks and to maintain suits for the amount of their personal liability.

The court held the board and receivers must proceed in the courts to set up their rights and let the court decide what should be done to protect the government's rights.

The controversy arose in Milwaukee Wis., when J. R. Wheeler, holder of 50 shares of stock in the Bankers Joint Stock Land bank, was sued by Howard Greene, receiver of the bank, for $5,000. Wheeler took the position that the creditors of the failed land bank only had the right to maintain suits against Joint Stock Land bank, was sued HEALTHY body is vigorous, A strong and sound. It is man's and woman's greatest asset. It demands that the red-blood-cells shall not be decreased in number.

The red-blood-cells are its workers -5,000,000 to the cubic millimeter. They give to the blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. Rich, red blood wards off disease. It is very dangerous to let the blood count remain below normal. Even though you have allowed your blood count to get too low, with resulting ill health, you may still be strong and well again.

With an increase in the red-bloodcells, you will be on the right road to Health. This is Nature's way to body power and to clear skin. Naturally, with your strength restored, it is easier to fight disease and infection; to enjoy your food and to sleep soundly. When firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby, you will feel strong—your nerves will become steady—more happiness and friends will follow.

You owe it to yourself and family to give S. S.S. a trial. It promotes healthy body building. It helps Nature build rich, red blood. For more than 100 years S. S. # GOLF BY ELECTRIC LIGHT LATEST SOCIAL ACTIVITY

Atlanta Debutantes Attend Weds Mr. Copley. Reception at LaGrange, Ga. The marriage of Miss Frances Cook and Henry Copley was solemnized

OLF by electric light! That's the latest thing in this age of marvels. Cator Woolford entertained a party of eight recently at his estate, Jaquelin Lodge, on Ponce de Leon avenue. Among those present were Dr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Hinman, Mr. and Mrs. James D. Robinson and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft. Once cafe noir had fulfilled its usual destiny golf was proposed—golf by electric light, eighteen holes of it! The beautiful golf course at Jaquelin Lodge with its stepping stones over bad places, its dangerous hazards, and its almost endless sweep through the clear places of the woods, up hill and down dale, was brilliantly illuminated. It was, it woods, up hill and down dale, was brilliantly illuminated. It was, it seems, as bright as day! It had rained in the afternoon—rubber coats and overshoes were added as part of the golf equipment. The night mists rising from the damp earth hung soft and white like clouds of tulle around the edges of the wood. The wet leaves were bright like mirrors. It must have been, I am sure, like a new and mysterious the other side and ship them home again. It's great fun. Mahogany dining tables in pairs with drop leaves and slender legs, secretary book cases with criss-cross glass doors and a top draw-from England. It must have cost several thousand dollars? Ten years ago I bought one like it on Royal street in New Orleans for $75. Later I sold it for $100, having inherited mean-while, a better one. I grieve

HE meeting of the Debu-tante Club Monday morning was concerned chiefly with the coming fashion show and kindred subjects. Once the meeting was over a cavalcade of smart motors of every kind, every color, every style, every make, left for LaGrange, Georgia, and Mrs. Ted Lewis' reception in honor of her sister, Miss Frances Howard. The season's debutantes stood in the receiving line. Quite a lot of hand shaking naturally was in order.

The splendid highway stretched in the sunlight past Fort Mc-Pherson, past Newnan and on to the dear picturesque old town that was their destination. All the way, there were the dazzling sunshine and the uttermost splendor of the autumnal woods. Now for the sauce that goes with it and is—of course—the important thing, after all: Major Gray's chutney, shredded fresh cocoanut, raw tomatoes sliced thin, ground peanuts, five onions sliced thin and fried black, Bombay duck (which has to be ordered weeks in advance), hard-boiled eggs grated, diced fresh apples, fillets of anchovy. 'Hello! This smells to me like Peter we sometimes say, he lives by his wits. As you know, Reddy and Mrs. Reddy had made their home up in the Old Pasture. Reddy was taking a nap on his doorstep that morning when a hunter shot at Peter Rabbit. Instantly Reddy Fox was wide awake. The Old Pasture is large. It is rocky and brush-grown and there are many bramble tangles. The place where Peter Rabbit had been shot at by the hunter was a long way from Reddy's home. However, Reddy knew by the sound just where that hunter was when he fired the shot.

was when he fired the shot.

"So there is a hunter up here in the Old Pasture," muttered Reddy. "I had hoped that hunters would keep away from here. I know Farmer Brown will not allow any hunting up in the Old Pasture, but I've noticed that every year one or two hunters do steal in here for a little hunting. Now, I wonder what that fellow shot at. I don't know of anyone living over there just now. Of course, a Grouse may have come over to the Old Pasture and I not know it. I think a little later I'll have a look around over there. I hate these hunters with their terrible guns, but sometimes they do me a good turn without knowing it. I have found more than one good dinner killed for me by their terrible runs. They wound someone and then cannot find the victim. The latter creeps off to die, and that means a meal for me."

Reddy remained right where he was for great time. The latter of the strian and the pain, the discomfort and the nervousness that come from the distention and the stretching of the skin and the tissues which attend this delicate condition.

Reddy remained right where he was for some time. Then he lazily rose to his feet, stretched, yawned and then trotted off along an old cowpath. Presently he reached that part of the Old Pasture where the hunter had been. His keen nose soon found the scent of the hunter. Then Reddy began a systematic search. # MISS FRANCES SPALDING MAKES DEBUT AT 'HOMESTEAD'

Famous Old Home Linked Debs To Assist With City's Social History

Hospitality, tempered with the tradition of the ante-bellum south, will be dispensed this afternoon at The Homestead, on Ashby street, at the debut of Miss Frances Spalding, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Schaffner Spalding, granddaughter of Dr. E. L. Connally and his wife, the late Mrs. Mary Brown Connally, of tender memory, and name-sake of the ever gracious Mrs. Hal Hentz, her maternal aunt. It is indeed a priceless privilege accorded Miss. Spalding, one granted but few young girls, that of making her social entry within walls so hallowed and filled with precious sentiment. This interesting old house has been the scene of debut receptions, weddings, family reunions and golden weddings for the past three generations. It is one of the land-marks of West End and closely executed with the social history of lowed and filled with precious sentiment. This interesting old house has been the scene of debut receptions, weddings, family reunions and golden weddings for the past three generations. It is one of the landmarks of West End, and closely associated with the social history of Atlanta, and today's deb will be one of the many to be honored within its walls, and make ready to take her place in the annals of the community.

Around her on all sides will be emblems and mementoes of the Connally, the Brown and the Spalding family histories. Portraits hang upon the walls of her great-grandfather, Joseph Emerson Brown, Georgia's historical wartime governor, one of the ablest American statesmen, and of his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Grisham Brown, the memory of whose charity, simplicity and universal kindness have been revered in the state for the important of the past three decades; of Julius Brown, the eminent lawyer, art collector, literary savant; of his exquisitely cultured wife, Mrs. Frances Fort Brown; of her great uncle, Joseph M. Brown, who served Georgia as chief executive for two terms; and of her uncle, the late Captain Joseph Brown Connally, the laughing hero of the World War, who made the supreme sacrifice.

Dr. A. T. Spalding, her grandfather on her paternal side, was for many years pastor of the Second Baptist church and likewise married her parents and maternal grandparents.

Innumerable weddings have been celebrated at The Homestead, those of memories, a family shrine, the kind of a house it is a sacred right to have been born in, to have been reared in, and from which to enter into the maturer life. Today's pretty debutante shows the same underlying qualities that brought success and satisfied achievement to her forbears, and possesses the graciousness of heart and mind which made them

It seems that five years ago, Wayward was in Nashville to cover a football game and was driving both ways on a one-way street in a U-Strip-the-Gears Car.

The Nashville policeman, noting the odd feat of chauffeuring, went over to congratulate Wayward on his masterful piloting.

One word led to another and finally to the desk sergeant. They made Wayward promise never to return to Nashville to show up local motorists again.

THE OFFICIALS' REVENGE.

The morning of the Vandy-Alabama game, a group of football officials, including Jim Parry, Everett Strupper and Buck Flowers, egged on by Zipp Newman, the unsubsidized sports writer of the Birmingham News, framed with a deputy sheriff to serve a phoney paper on Wayward for the sins of his past. He was rescued just in time to cover the game amid the guffaws of the officials.

I noticed in Wayward's report of the Vandy game to the City Builder that he complimented the officials on their fine work. Personally I thought the officials were terrible; they certainly got a mighty razz-oo from the townspeople and I always side with the peasantry in such matters. But Wayward's blurb bares the deep laid plot behind the arrest.

The stunt certainly worked.

I'll gamble that from now on Wayward finds no fault with he officiating. The whistle blowers seem to have a clear field from now on as far as the tangle-eyed prognosticator is con-

Wayward's girl friend attended the Tech-Notre Dame game here Saturday. Just after Stumpy Thomason bucked out of bounds she heard an old lady behind her say:

"Oh, shucks, he ran out of line . . . I'll bet he to have told him." And as the referee carried the ball in 15 yards, she added: "Oh! what a shame, he is penalizing them now."

And still they sell them seats on the 50-yard line!

There is something in it that has come down from the time of the Druids—something of the mysterious and the occult in it. For there is no mean hunt in the chasing of the red fox. There is, instead, something ritual in it. For he is never hunted in mean fashion but with ceremony, the blowing of horns, the rush of great hunting horses, the cries of a blooded pack and the thud of hooves on the turf. "Perhaps the most valuable function of the training camp is the keeping of the men together as a unit. When they train in cities they are separated after practice, are forced to loaf about hotel lobbies and boarding houses. Tornado Gets First Crack at Defeated Team in Alabama.

By Ed Danforth.

While Georgia goes off to he wars in the frozen north this week-end, Georgia Tech will gather up the loose ends and begin a determined drive to salvage a few sprigs of laurel from the windstorm of football fortune.

Tech goes to Nashville to meet the undefeated Vanderbilt eleven and sees beyond the Vanderbilt goal line a shining chance to cool a brow that aches a lot from sickening gridiron reverses The Yellow Jackets have been in the van of the conference army this year. The Yellow Jackets have been the shock troops of the season. The boys in the rusty jerseys have met three undefeated teams this year and next Saturday meet a fourth. One must pause and hand it to the boys from the Flats; they have had to battle 'em while they were tough and full of fire. There was nobody to often them up for the Engineers.

TARHEELS FIRST. North Carolina came into Atlanta with every man in shape and predicating their entire campaign on beating Tech. They did.

Florida steamed into town fired by a fanatical fervor and in glistening condition. The Yellow Jackets hauled off and stopped them.

A week later the Yellow Jackets vent down to New Orleans, where Tulane, having rested the week before against Southwestern Louisiana while Tech was burning itself out beating Florida, managed to squeeze out a one-touchdown victory.

Then by way of taking a rest between conference games. Tech played Notre Dame and looked pretty good even in losing.

JUST ANOTHER ONE. Now it is just another undefeated opponent that the Engineers must tackle in Nashville. It is a versatile, courageous, well-coached opponent. Vanderbilt sustained no injuries in the Alabama game and will be physically and mentally ready to play another good game.

Critics who saw Tech against Notre Dame fancied they saw some improvement in Tech's play. After all has been said and done, it is possible that Tech's line may round into shape under the scourging of Bill Fincher and begin to play the football he wants it to. A return to winning form in November would make the Tech season a huge success.

Despite its early season defeat at the hands of Georgia, 15-0, Yale's eastern record is by far more impressive than any other team in this section. Pittsburgh is unbeaten, but Pitt's victories over West Virginia, Nebraska and Ohio State can't match Yale's triumphs over Brown, Army and Dartmouth. Cornell also is un-defeated, but has been pushed to the dimit to win from Princeton and Co-Tumbia, a pair of mediocre teams. MISTAKES.

It is very easy to point out the mistakes in a football game after the game is over, still a good argument can be made on the inadvisability of a forward pass by the team in the lead towards the end of the game. Of course, Dartmouth was well in Yale's territory and other forward passes had worked successfully, but, as I said before, it is easy to pick a play to pieces after it desen't work. While Navy was a bit tired after the Princeton game. Penn planned to score a touchdown early in the game and then play safe. Lou Young's strategy worked to perfection. Wilner made a beautiful run for a touchdown fifter receiving a forward pass from Masters. This score won the game. While the Navy made several marches down the field, the Penn defense managed to stiffen near the goal line and stop the Navy from scoring. Penn's defense against the forward pass was fine. In fact the entire Penn team played a great game, particularly on defense.

EARNED WIN

By Howard Jones, Football Coach University of Southern California. (Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Los Angeles, Cal., November 4.—The University of California football team won a well deserved victory over Southern California in the Los Angeles coliseum yesterday by a score of 15 to 7. The victory leaves California the only undefeated team in the Pacific coast conference.

Coach Price's players won because they had a better team on the field than we had. Their blocking and interference running were of high order and their line repeatedly outcharged ours in the first half when those 15 points were scored. In fact, they played alert football all the time and took advantage of the misplays of their opponents.

In the last three or four years California has not produced a team with anything like the offensive strength of the present eleven. Despite the fact that we made more yardage and more first downs than they did, California was successful because the Bears had the necessary punch to get yards when yards meant touchdowns. After all, games are not decided on yardage and first downs.

FIRST SCORE. FIRST SCORE.

FIRST SCORE.

The first score came late in the first quarter when the Bears, after recovering a fumble, punched their way 35 yards, Gill tallying the touchdown. Soon after this Lom broke away on the most spectacular run of the day, an 85-yard dash around his own left end to the goal line. A safety, made when Captain Riegels blocked a punt, gave them the other two points in the second period. Our score came midway in the second half after some hard line plunging by Saunders. If California can maintain her pres

4.—The games of last week which had a direct bearing on premacy in the Southern conference were Tulane-Georgia, Clemson-Kentucky and Alabama-Vanderbilt.

When a team steps out with one surprising victory, it is always well to await further developments rather than to appraise the team by the result of one game. Tulane, however, has won her spurs. She defeated Georgia Tech and on the following Saturday tackled one of the greatest teams in the conference and that after a long journey. Tulane's victory indicates steadiness of the first order, and entitles her to rank alongside Tennessee, Keutucky and Vanderbilt.

It has been common knowledge, among the coaches and the experts in the Southern conference, that the University of Kentucky has a fine football team. She has had little opportunity to demonstrate this because of her weak schedule. But her enormous score Saturday against Clemson now clearly indicates her class.

All Players in Good Shape as Practice Is Resumed.

Athens, Ga., November 4.-With two defeats by Florida and Tulane behind them, the University of Georgia Bulldogs settled down to work here this afternoon in an effort to strengthen the weak places in the Bulldog machine for the invasion of Gotham on Saturday.

The Georgia team returned to Athens in fairly good condition after the game with Tulane in Columbus Friday. Unless other serious injuries are game with Tulane in Columbus Friday. Unless other serious injuries are received during the midweek scrimmages, the Athenians will go to the eastern metropolis with only one player unable to take part in the game. Austin Downes, who was hurt in the Florida game, was down running signals this afternoon, minus his football uniform but will hardly be able to take part in the fracas, according to Head Coach Harry Mehre. Fat Bryant received an injured shoulder in the Tulane game, but the injury is improving rapidly and the big Georgia tackle will take part in the game Saturday. The complete recovery of such players as Red Smith, Red Maddox, Armin Waugh, and John Davidson, will add much strength to the Georgia team for their northern invasion.

Coaches Mehre and Thomas were fairly well pleased with the work of the Georgia players in the Tulane game, but they think that there is still much room for improvement. Coach Mehre said, however, that there could be no let down if the Bulldogs were to face the rest of their schedule and come out with anything like a credible record.

Modern naval tests have proved that aircraft are superior fighting weapons to ships of the line.

A follow-up investigation will be conducted Saturday afternoon at Nashville when Georgia Tech's buzzing Jackets attempt to sink Vanderbilt's battle squadron. A well-placed bomb or two by the Jackets—and the air will still be on top. And expert shooting of those long lob-passes by the Commodore gunners—and the aircraft will go into a dive. Monday the Jackets started the work of tuning up the machine. A new play or two, a drilling on offense, and signals till dark was the program laid out by Coach Bill Alexander.

Scrimmage during the balance of the week will send the varsity against the freshmen, as the non-scouting agreement formed by the Man and Uncle Dan McGugin will eliminate the usual Grey Devils and their opposition plays.

The condition of the squad at the Grey Devils and their opposition plays.

The condition of the squad at the Flats—rated as of the best Sunday—seemed Monday to be almost ready to take a fall. Jim Brooke, who left the field in the Notre Dame game with an injured leg, was thought to be coming round in good shape Sunday. Monday the training room atmosphere was not quite so cheerful, though hopes are still held out—slim hopes—for his recovery in time to leave with the squad Friday.

Jim is the only man who failed to put in an appearance Monday afternoon, the rest of the Jacket crew cavorting about with plenty of spirit and agility.

King of the Duffers.

To keep my eyes glued on the ball And never move my head at all, To swing my club at easy pace And meet the pill right on its face, Then let the club head follow through Are things I always try to do.
But though I seem in proper stance, The beastly pellet starts to dance The shimmy as my stroke comes round, And either I just plow the ground Or give the thing a slice or hook, Or top it into ditch or brook. So that is why I shout and sing, Of all the duffers I am King! But let me tell you, soon or late My kingdom I will abdicate, For when I once a hundred break From throne and crown my leave I'll take Then to the fairways I shall sing "The king is dead, long live the king!" -HENRY BACON THOMSON.

Football will have to hustle this season to dig up a greater defensive star than Ben Ticknor, Harvard's roving center. Ticknor is one of those football types who sense the play and who then arrive immediately at the right spot with a smashing tackle. He gets his man. In the Army and the Dartmouth games he must have made more than 50 per cent of the tackles on all plays that were not piled up at the line. He is a deadly tackler, and if you give him even a half shot at some runner the odds are that runner is coming down. He proved this against two such backs as Cagle and Marsters, and they are pretty fair tests for anyone who is out to check an attack. There are made football players—and there are natural football players. Ticknor belongs to the latter class.

Now They All Fear Purdue. Dear Sir: Not only Alonzo Stagg, but everyone else in the Big Ten "fears Purdue." After many years of the western conference title. Not since 1892 has Purdue gone through a season unbeaten. But having defeated Michigan, the Boilermakers appear to have a fine chance to go through to victory. Purdue has yet to play Chicago, Wisconsin, lowa and Indiana. Iowa may give it a battle, but the Boiler-Brown with his nose. The nose was sorry sight at Monday afternoon's practice, but Freddy is otherwise "fears Purdue." After many years of failure, Jimmy Phelan finally has welded a team that looks like a formidable contender for the western con-makers should win the others.

Phelan has a great backfield composed of Welch, Yunevich, White, Harmeson and a half dozen others. Eb Carraway, moved from halfback to end, is playing a great game, and Red Sleight is the best tackle in the Big Ten. If Phelan can escape an epidemic of injuries he should go far in the race. This Yunevich is a wonder. Did you ever see a steam roller coming down the street? Yunevich reminds one of just that.

OVERLAND RED.

Speaking of Ends.

Dear Sir: Just make Wesley Fesler, Ohio's right end, one of your All-American playmates again. The big Buckeye, 15 pounds heavier than last year, is playing 50 per cent better football than when you saw him against Princeton in 1928. He is all over the field, tackling, catching runners, intercepting passes and catching those thrown by Holman. He runners, intercepting passes and catching those thrown by Holman. He is a great diagnostician of plays and seldom is fooled. His work against Iowa and Michigan was sensational, and everyone who saw him RALPH FINKE. you of his improvement.

Setting a Record. Notre Dame this season is on its way to set an attendance record that won't be beaten in some time. Here is a pretty close estimate of the

	that already have gathered, plus the crowds to come later of Indiana game, at Bloomington 25,000
	Navy, at Baltimore 75,000
	Wisconsin, at Chicago 75,000
	Carnegie Tech, at Pittsburgh 70,000
	Georgia Tech, at Atlanta 35,000
	Drake, at Chicago 70,000
	Southern California, at Chicago 100,000
0.5	Northwestern, at Evanston 40,000
	Army, at New York 75,000

No one football team has ever played before more than a half-million before this in a single season. And if there had been capacity, these figures would run well beyond a million. Yale and Southern California, among others, will go close to 400,000 this season, with the big bowl sold out for three games. But the roving Irish are out to set a mark they can all shoot at—for 1929, at least.

It should be mentioned here that Notre Dame is on the road this season, because her new stadium will not be ready until next fall. After that it will be largely a home-and-home proposition and the Wanderers will have a chance to rest and take a deep breath now and then.

BACKS INJURED

Tide Still Full of Fight and Is Pointing for Kentucky 'Cats.

University, Ala., November 4. Alabama's toll of injuries resulting from Saturday's clash with Vandy appeared less appalling Monday after the casualties had been carefully X-rayed and thumbed over.

Three of Alabama's starting backs suffered painful injuries. Ralph Mc-Right suffered a bad dislocation of the left knee when he was blocked viciously by Abernathy as an aftermath of a spirited blocking duel.

Tony Holm played the entire latter half with a broken rib. Monk Campbell, making his first appearance as a quarterback, in a major grind encounter, replacing the injured captain, Hicks was blocked several times on his recently fractured leg and finally was taken from the game when he became completely helpless. Examina-tions showed no permanent injury to Campbell and he is expected to start against Kentucky next Saturday.

Suther, whose shoulder injury has been much exploited, was the sole survivor of the "Calamity Four."
Alabama's only line casualty result-improvement.

The Alabama squad is still full of fight and pointing for Kentucky, despite two reverses at the hands of Tennessee elevens.

Tech Freshmen Prep for Tigers

Georgia Tech's vearling Jackets opened their final drive in preparation for their attack on the strongholds of the Baby Tigers of Auburn with a long signal drill on the Rose Bowl field Monday afternoon.

The game with the Auburn freshmen, originally slated for this Saturday, has been postponed, and will be played off next Monday afternoon at Auburn.

played off next Monday atternoon at Auburn.

The Jacket frosh, with two victories on their string, are expected to be further extended by the Tiger freshmen. In their last game, with Furman's rats, the Tech yearlings barely managed to eke out a victory as their defensive play crumbled. In scrimmages since that game, however, the rats have faced the varsity squads, and the defense has been greatly strengthened by the experiences.

Fordham and West Virginia Open Week at Polo Grounds.

By L. S. Cameron.

New York, November 4.—(United News.)—The metropolitan area will get its football early this week with the Fordham and West Virginia university elevens playing at the Polo Grounds tomorrow.

Coach Frank Cavanaugh, of Fordham, has said that the Rams will be facing their toughest foe to date in the Mountaineer game. West Virginia has a stronger combination than their record indicates. The Mountaineers have won but three games in six starts. They beat West Virginia Wesleyan, Washington and Lee and Oklahoma Aggies. They were tied by Duquesne and lost to Pitt and Davis-Elkins.

Fordham is unheaten after starts

Elkins.

Fordham is unbeaten after starts against Westminster, St. Bonaventure, N. Y. U. and Holy Cross. The Rams were tied by Davis and Elkins.

The game with West Virginia is just one of two for the Rams this week. They go to Boston on Saturday to play the unbeaten Boston college team. West Virginia has a similar assignment. The Mountaineers will play Detroit at Detroit on Saturday. Neither of the teams played last Saturday.

West Virginia beat Fordham here last year by 18 to 0.

Other eastern teams today began a new week of practice for Saturday's competition. Columbia and N. Y. U. will come back into the local ring by meeting Colgate and Georgia, respec-tively. Both of these games have in-teresting possibilities. Colgate has not been beaten by an eastern foe, but the fight shown by Columbia in nearly holding Cornell to a tie last Saturday indicates that the game will not be one-sided. The N. Y. U.-Georgia game one-sided. The N.Y. U.-Georgia game has the much-liked intersectional tinge. Another game involving teams of varied sections is the Yale-Maryland event at New Haven.

Army and Harvard will go to the midwest to play Illinois and Michigan. Navy has a home game with Georgetown. Princeton and Lehigh play at Princeton. Penn. Penn. State. play at Princeton. Penn-Penn State, W. & J.-Pitt and Rutgers-Lafayette are other eastern games of interest.

Champaign, Ill., November 4.—When your line is outplayed, practically man for man, your fastest backs will never get a chance and your pet plays will be futile.

This is why Illinois was defeated by Northwestern and removed from consideration as a championship possibility for the third straight year. On defense, the Illinois veterans could hold Northwestern helpless most of the time, but they were not strong enough to preevnt their opponents from sifting through and stopping Illinois backs. It was not a case of over-confidence for the Illinois realized Northwestern would be Northwestern had profited by its rest of two weeks and was nimble while the Illinois players were flat-footed. Nobody gave Chicago much of a Achance against Princeton, even if the Tigers were not as strong as usual. But Coach Stagg did a fine job of revising his offense in the scant time of two days. He had hoped to wear down Purdue by constant hammering but his wide passing game was the only thing that worked against the only thing that worked against the Boilermakers. Discarding his power game, he turned to the spread formation with a loose back or end at the side line and it did the trick.

Chicago has some good players in Weaver, a big lineman; Van Nice, a driving back. The Maroons meet Wisconsin and Illinois and these games now put on a different face.

Wisconsin's line was improved but Purdue with Welch, Harmeson and Yunewich could mix up a running game with passes and wear down the hest in the Wane.

They all stand there, whimpering, whining because there is something in their hearts that drives them on in the chase; some impelling force that will not let them be still—Cromwell's Roundheads reincarnated, knowing inst one thing and willing to die for instance was manifest.

His kicking, ball carrying and defensive work, both against passes and line plays, entitles him to be classed with the best. Lom has a just right to be seriously considered for all-American honors. Of course, the season is not over and a man cannot be definitely rated merely on his performance in one or two games, but Lom is very much on his way.

Next to Lom's playing I think Gill's defensive work in backing up the California line is worthy of mention. He and Captain Riegels were outstanding in California's defensive battle. In games to date, I would rate Riegels the best center on the Pacific coast.

Lom's 85-yard run was the high light of the day. Next to this long run came Saunders, of Southern California, with a fine effort of 35 yards. Saunders played a hard game of football and was second to Lom in yardage, his total being 92.

Moses, in his first appearance of the season for us, showed flashes of form which may indicate that he has a lot of good football left in him yet. He has been handicapped by injuries. While the playing of Captain Barrager, of the Trojans, was not up to the standard he has shown in the past, he should not be classed as an inferior player, for he has displayed on many occasions an ability to meet very difficult situations. I can only attribute his letdown in this game to the fact that he thoroughly exhausted himself in the battle with Stanford a week ago.

The plot lacks originality. A mannequin, through the favor of the wealthy old roue, takes the primrose path from poverty to jewels. She falls in love, very unfortunately, with a poor but technically honest artist.

The artist allows himself to be given a splendid wedding and a fine home by the "guardian" of his bride. Only after the ceremony does he suspect the nature of his benefactor.

From that point the story moves on apace to the familiar denouement. The wife needs money. The unkind old fellow insists on the usual sharp bargain. In some rather muddled up way the usual thing happens and the jealous husband throttles the ogre. Steel and Oil Strong.

Trading in the industrials was marked by the strength of steel and oil company obligations. Bethlehem 5s, Armour 4 1-2s and 5 1-2s, Chile Copper 5s, Humble Oil 5s and 5 1-2s, Goodrich 6 1-2s, Lackawanna Steel 5s, Liggett & Myers 5s, Otls Steel 6s, Phillips Petroleum 5 1-4s, the Sinclair Consolidated Oil group, Shell Union Oil 5s and others were 70 1-2 to 2 or more points.

Union Oil 5s and others were 40 1-2 to 2 or more points.
European government bonds, including state and municipal issues, took the leading position in the foreign list. Belgian, French and German national loans rose 1-2 to 1 point, while larger gains developed in some of the municipal obligations.

although subsequent selling depressed many of the leaders.

Cities Service was again a trading favorite. Opening an hour late with the unprecedented block of 225,000 shares, which represented an accumulation of orders over the holiday and week-end, the stock lost 3 points of its early rise of more than 4 and closed with a net advance of 1 3-8 on a turnover of nearly 900,000 shares.

Tresponse to the plan to segregate its coal properties. Caterpillar was up nearly 5 points on reports that it was to be moved to the "big board," but was able to retain only 1-2 point of its gain.

Soft spots in the oil list included Cosden, down 15; Humble, down 1; Vacuum. down 41-2, and Gulf, down 43-8. The Standard Oil group was fairly steady.

New York, November 4.—(P)—
Trading got back to normal proportions on the New York Curb market today as speculative enthusiasm sagged. The movement of prices was highly irregular and there was liberal profit-taking, especially at the opening. Some renewed liquidation also appeared, especially in the utilities and the oils.

The heaviest selling took place at the former advancing 8 points under brisk buying.

Aluminum Company of America, Lehigh Coal & Navigation and Cater-pillar Tractor showed strength, the second named soaring 16 points in response to the plan to segregate its Atlanta Spot 17.30. Sales, 2,500 points down at 17.30. Sales, 2,500 points of the lowest. January sold off from 17.97 to 17.78 and closed at 17.80 with the general market closing steady at net declines of 15 to 19 stocks, 40,697.

New York, November 4.—(P)--A renewal of southern selling and liquidation was absorbed by covering and trade buying on scale down orders in the cotton market today but no rallying power developed, apparently, and closing prices were within 2 or 3 points of the lowest. January sold off from 17.97 to 17.78 and closed at 17.80 with the general market closing line shelf and she

The opening was steady at declines of 2 to 5 points. Reports of rains in the south tended to attract very little attention, and some of last week's buyers seemed to be disappointed by the opening of the stock market. At any rate offerings increased right after the call and while the trade buying continued, prices worked gradually lower.

400 Atlas Powler 10 New Orleans was a seller here while there was considerable liquida-tion through brokers with Wall Street and commission house connections which sent prices 17 to 18 points net lower during the middle of the day.

This decline was followed by rallies This decline was followed by rallies on reports that the liquidating movement in the stock market was tappering off, while the southern selling became less active after the first half hour. Prices recovered some 6 to 7 points of their losses but the buying slackened again during the afternoon, and the lowest prices of the day were reached in the late trading when December sold at 17.67 and March at 18.08 or 19 to 20 points let lower. The southern selling was a little more nervous toward the close, but local brokers attributed a good part of the day's pressure to further old long liquidation and the failure of the stock market to maintain rallies from its opening decline.

Two more private crop reports were published, one making the indicated processing decline.

local brokers attributed a good part of the day's pressure to further old long liquidation and the failure of the stock market to maintain rallies from its opening decline.

Two more private crop reports were published, one making the indicated yield 15,020,000 bales compared with an estimate of 14,990,000 a month ago and estimated the ginnings prior to November 1 at 11.200,000 bales. The other placed the crop prospect as of October 27 at 14,472,000 bales and estimated that 79.4 per cent of the crop had been picked up to that date. Liverpool cables said there had been hedging and local liquidation absorbed by continental buying in that market and reported an improved cloth demand with a fair business pending from India.

Port receipts today, 90,968. United States port stocks, 2,308.407. Exports, $3,053, making 2,337,899 so far this season.

New York, November 4.—Over-confidence in the present stock market situation at this particular time would simply lead to another unhealthy position. Stabilization of common sense and reason, but many sore apots remain to be cured. A quiet market for the next 30 days would be the most effective remedy we could hope for.

It is our opinion that investment buying will take care of the situation. The best stocks will be favored and will naturally give the best account of themselves. Low-grade stocks, in our opinion, will meet further liquidation and here and there some outstanding weak spots probably will be uncovered.

H. & B. BEER.

New York, November 4.—We think the market is at a point where it is quite difficult to determine whether a purchase of a high grade stocks will result in a profit or a loss for a day or two or three shead but where it can be almost taken for granted that a purchase, upon conservative lines, will show a very satisfactory appreciation within a period of months.

We think it will pay the average person to wait for the market to go down and volume to decline to normal, the tape catch up to trading, etc., before any big position. We continue to recommend purchase of bargains on reactions and duliness or weakness among high grade ralls and industrials. New York. November 4.—Copper steady; electrolytic, spot and future 18. FENNER & BEANE.

New York, November 4.—Cotton lost about a dollar a bale today, due to increased crop ideas and unsettled conditions in other markets. In fact, market made new lows for the season. Much long cotton was liquidated and there was some short selling. Hedging was light. Buying power, was small.

One private bureau increased its estimate 45,000 bales to 15,035,000: another reduced its figures 35,000 to 14,472,000. One predicted ginnings of 11,200,000 vs. 10,182,000 to this date last year.

A message from west Texas says inspection of unpicked fields of west and northwest shows that damage from freezing has been under-estimated.

An unsettled market seems in prospect.

ORVIS BROS. & CO.

Nw York, November 4.—Prices in today's cotton market were heavy throughout the session. Moderate hedge sales combined with further liquidation prior to Friday's crop estimate account for the easier tone. Undoubtedly stock market developments are a contributing cause to sales pressure as a feeling of uncertainty has developed. Under such circumstances builting the market immediately is unlikely.

It is more than probable that current prices will ventually prove to be cheap.

New York, November 4.—The cotton market was pretty much influenced unfavorably by another setback to the New York stock market in which there was another sinking spell this morning. Contributing to the decline was a private large estimate as to ginnings to November 1 and some hedging was reported. Values experienced a moderate decline but recovered somewhat later in the day, only to ease off again in late session.

STOCKS RECEDE WHEN BUYING FEVER DIES ON "ANTI-CLIMAX" MARKET EXCHANGE ANNOUNCES MORE SHORT SESSIONS

New York. November 4 .- (A)-Governors of the New York Stock Exchange voted that the exchange shall be open for business between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, and shall be closed all day Saturday. Trading will be suspended Tuesday because of elections.

Despite the fact that the exchanges were closed last Friday and Saturday, this further suspension of business was deemed necessary because brokerage firms found it impossible to catch up with the tremendous accumulation of work that piled up last week, and to give their employes sufficient rest.

Most of the leading firms were manned with full staffs, not only Fri-day and Saturday of last week, but on Sunday as well in a strenuous effort to straighten out the many tangles that had developed. Evidence that much still remains to be done was apparent from the order of the stock and curb exchanges requiring all specialists to have an authorized representative on the floor not later than 8:45 a.m. in the closing business sessions of the week, and calling upon telephone clerks of the brokerage the brokerage houses to report at the same hour

The New York banking group held no meetings of conferences today, and issued no statements. Spokesmen for the group expressed pleasure at the apparent passing of the hysteria which characterized many of the re-cent markets but indicated that the organization would be maintained for the time being, although no further meetings have been called or are con-

Spokesmen for the group declined to affirm or deny rumors that stock bought for supporting purposes last week had been sold.

of these stories told by the heavy ac-cumulation of buying orders pouring into the brokers' offices here from all parts of the country, with the predic-tion made that the recovery start-ing Wednesday morning and still un-der way when the market closed Thursday night, would be resumed at the opening this morning, hence there was great surprise when the market opened down this morning anywhere from 1 to 15 points or more on a flood of resumed selling.

The decline last named wiped all of the advance that has occurred back to October of 1928 or when the unprecedented bull stock market began to discount the re-election of the republican party.

The Gold Reserve Problem

One of the most important develop ments in the banking world is the steps being taken to economize in the use of gold. One well known device ih what is called the gold exchange standard. Under this system, which has grown up in recent years, central banks of several countries have been unting exchange in New York, London and in some instances Paris as the equivalent of gold, and considering it part of their legal reserve. A proposal to carry the interna-ional co-operation of central banks till further is the Bank of Internastill further is the Bank of Interna-tional Settlements, provided for in the Young plan of reparations pay-ment. This is only in the prelimi-nary stage and no one can tell how far it will be developed.

Another important matter is the smaller use of gold as a circulating medium. In Europe, virtually no gold is to be found in hand-to-hand circulation and in some countries are circulation and in some countries pa per currencies have been made re-deemable in gold bar insted of coin, thus preventing gold from being withdrawn except for export. A fourth factor is the increase in the use of checks instead of currency for ordinary payments. As bank deposits require an ultimate gold reserve in the United States, for example, of only about 5 per cent, whereas paper currency requires 40 years cent, the saving in gold requirements is very great. The use of checks is by far more common in this country than abroad. England

Much yet remains which can be

Much yet remains which can be done to reduce the amount of gold required and prevent any long continued shortage in the country. The amount of gold used directly or indirectly for circulation purposes is still too large. The United States actually uses more gold in that way than before the war.

A great deal of room for increased use of checking accounts exists abroad. Another step which might be taken to reduce the amount of gold required would be to reduce the legal reserve requirements. This would be a difficult and slow process, requiring legislation in the various countries, but it is generally believed that reserves of 35 to 40 per cent, such as are now commonly established, are greater than modern conditions require.

Important : Readers of The Constitution are invited to submit questions of a general financial nature. When-ever practical or expedient these will be confidentially answered.

Is declining. For the day as a whole the total was far below last week's history-making sessions.

Heavy Loan Calling.

There was heavy calling of loans today by the banks here. This calling of loans had something to do with the heavy selling of stocks which ran its course during the first half hour today but was resumed after an hour of price recovery.

Light on the calling of loans by the banks is found in the weekly brokers' loan statement published by the federal reserve after the close of the stock market last Thursday and later in the monthly statement of brokers' loans given out by the New York Stock Exchange. The statement first named showed a decrease of $1,006,000.000 compared with the previous week. The monthly statement of the stock exchange showed a decline for October of $2,440,000,000.

The decline last named wiped all of the advance that has occurred back

Special Weekly Report

Manchester, Espland (By Mail.)—

There has been no change of importance in the conditions prevailing in the market during the past week. On the whole the tone has been quieter than recently, owing to the fact that at the attitude of many leading buyers has been affected by the easier work. Although there has been and merchants both at home an abroad have been in no hurry place orders and the opinion place orders and merchants both at home an opinion place orders and the opinion place orders and place orders and the opinion place orders and place orders and been done in shipping numbers. In-quiry in Egyptian yarns has been rather better, the lower prices hav-ing attracted users. In the Ameri-can spinning section production is about 78 per cent of full time, in the Egyptian section about 92 per cent, and weaving is about 80 per cent of full capacity.

Business IS Sound

It is our belief and conviction that the general industrial and business condition of the country is fundamentally sound and is essentially unimpaired.

We see nothing in the present situation that should stop the steady, forward, deliberate progress of America.

American Business and Industry will go forward with assurance of full banking co-operation.

This is the considered judgment of our Directors, representing many phases of American Commerce: Manufacturing, Transportation, Merchandising and Finance.

amination of the Kincaid's wreckage showed hat their greatest danger, now, lay in fire, for the flames were licking hungrily at the splintered wood of the wrecked cabin, and had already found a foothold upon the lower deck through a great jagged hole which the explosion had opened. By a miracle no member of the ship's company had been injured by the blast, the origin of which remained forever a total mystery to them all.

As the tiames gained headway it became apparent to Tarzan that whatever had caused the explosion had scattered some highly inflammable substance upon the surrounding woodwork. The water which all hands poured in from the pump seemed rather to spread than to extinguish the blaze. Fifteen minutes after the explosion, great black clouds of smoke were rising from the hold of the doomed vessel and the flames had reached the engine room.

the ship no longer moved toward the shore. Her fate was as certain as though the waters already had closed above her charred and smoking remains. "It is useless to remain aboard her any longer," Tarzan said to the mate. "There's no telling when there'll be another explosion. We can't save her, so the safest thing to do is to take to the boats without further loss of time and make for land." By Edgar Rice Burroughs

There was no time either to bring away even their few belongings. Two boats were lowered into the smooth sea, and the loading was made without mishap. Eager and anxious, the beasts of Tarzan sniffed the familiar air of their native island as the their keels grated upon the sand than Sheeta and the apes of Akut were over the bows and racing like mad toward the jungle.

The jailed and friendless "Ione Ord" was transformed today into the radiant Gloria Rouzer, idolized daughter of a devoted mother, who rushed to her aid from New York with a woman lawyer to fight for the girl's freedom from entanglements in the strange murder case of Jack Kraft, with whom she stole away on a Bohemian adventure.

The mother, Mrs. Gloria M. Rouzer, reached New Orleans early today with Miss Dorothy Frooks, lawyer, of New York, and immediately motored down the river to Pointe a La Hache, where the girl has been held in jail as a material witness for more than two weeks.

Mother and daughter met in the cell and sobbed in each other's arms. After a talk of more than an hour, mother, daughter and counsel were allowed to dine at the village tavern. But tonight the girl was returned to her cell and the mother and lawyer came back to New Orleans to pursue legal steps for her release from prison.

Miss Frooks joined with several AFTER ESCAPETRY:

pursue legal steps for her release from prison.

Miss Frooks joined with several firms of New Orleans attorneys, who have been brought into the case by friends and relatives, and a hearing has been arranged for Thursday looking to the girl's release.

Meantime, Sam Epstein, steward on the steamship Creole aboard which young Kraft met his strange end, was waiting in the St. Bernard parish jail for a hearing in his application for release as a material witness. A definite date for the trial of John McGouldrick, second officer of the Creole, indicted for murder, has not been fixed. He occupies a cell in the same jail as the girl.
